Landfill focus of public concern, residents voice opposition to permits

By Terry Wright
Staff Writer

More than 100 people attended a public hearing on Thursday, June 2, at the Grayling High School Auditorium to voice concerns to Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) officials about a permit application by City Environmental Services Inc. of Waters (CESW).

If approved by the DNR Waste Management Division, the permit would allow CESW to expand its Maple Forest Township landfill both vertically and horizontally.

The permit application asks for DNR approval to expand the landfill to allow new cells to be built on an additional 79.1 acres of land currently owned by CESW, with a peak height of approximately 150 feet above the existing grade. If approved, the overall height of the landfill would be increased by 84 feet. The additional 7.3-million cubic feet of landfill airspace would provide disposal capacity for 20 years for Crawford and other counties, according to CESW officials.

A panel of six DNR officials listened to 20 local citizens, each expressing concern over further expansion. Among the panel members were Virginia Pierce, DNR District-7 Waste Management Supervisor, and John Ozoga, DNR Senior Environmental Engineer.

Ozoga stated that, after a recent evaluation of the landfill, CESW is in full compliance with laws regulating landfill operation. He said he inspects the facility, with prior notice, about every 75 days.

According to Pierce, neither current compliance with state regulations, nor the fact that CESW has no current operating violation citations means that approval of the permit application is automatic.

"The permit is based on many things," Pierce said. "The new rules are quite complex, with construction a big portion."

Some citizens expressed their concern over current contamination at the landfill. Some stated the landfill should not be allowed to expand until contamination has been cleaned up. Others said the landfill should not be allowed to expand at all.

Currently CESW is involved in a groundwater cleanup program, under the direction of the DNR, to clean up higher than acceptable levels of cancer causing agents including benzene, vinyl chloride, and 4-methyl phenol.

"What will happen when the landfill starts leaking into the Manistee and AuSable rivers," local resident Ernest Rasmussen said. "We've got to stop this right now."

Frederic resident, Dean Welch said, "I hope no further permits are approved until cleanup, according to the sale agreement, is completed."

"Does the 'D' in DNR stand for defender or destroyer of our natural resources," asked Deborah Golden of Grayling. "Nothing should be given to them until the cleanup is finished."

"I've lived here for 78 years," said Roger Kneff of Grayling. "I'm not scared of anything, but this scares me. According to the EPA, once these landfills leak, the water is contaminated forever."

According to a CESW handout, the proposed remediation of the contamination will be accomplished through a system of three purge wells and an air stripper to remove organic contaminants from the groundwater and release them into the atmosphere. The system has been approved by the DNR and is expected to be in operation before the end of 1994.

Many of the speakers included questions to the DNR or to

Notice of informational meeting concerning the application permit to expand the CESW landfill

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR), Waste Management Division, has scheduled an informational public question and answer period on Monday, June 20 to discuss issues concerning the City Environmental Services Inc. of Waters (CESW) landfill in Maple Forest Township.

Attending from the DNR to answer questions will be Virginia Pierce the District 7 Waste Management Division supervisor and John Ozoga, DNR senior environmental engineer. Representatives of City Environmental Services have also been invited to attend.

The meeting stems from concerns raised at a June 2 public hearing on the permit application to the DNR, by CESW to expand, both vertically and horizontally, the existing landfill.

The public is invited to attend. Questions need not be submitted prior to the meeting, which will be held in the Grayling High School Auditorium at 7 p.m.

representatives of CESW in attendance.

In reply, panel moderator David Dilts, DNR Parks and Recreation Regional Supervisor said, "I have been instructed that this format is to listen to your comments, not to answer questions. If you would like to stay after the hearing, I'm sure that staff members would be willing to talk to you on an individual basis."

Dilts' consistent response to questions drew consistent boos from members of the audience.

One of the last comments of the meeting came from Ann Richardson of Grayling, who pointed to a large banner on the auditorium wall that had been erected by the Grayling High School class of 1994 in preparation for graduation ceremonies on Friday. The banner read, "Remember this also, and be well persuaded by its truths; the future is not in the hands of fate, but in ours."

"I'm against it," Richardson added.

The entire expansion permit application, with accompanying documentation is available for public scrutiny at the Crawford County Library. The application consists of documentation on the following areas of concern:

- 1) General information,
- 2) environmental assessment,
- 3) hydrogeological report,
- 4) hydrogeological monitoring plan,
- 5) topographic maps,
- 6) engineering plans, including cell construction and leachate collection systems,
- 7) construction and quality assurance/quality control plan,
- 8) closure and post-closure plans, and
- 9) compliance status.

A public informational meeting to answer questions has been set for Monday, June 20, at 7 p.m. at the Grayling High School Auditorium. Pierce and Ozoga will be in attendance to answer questions.

Placed on notice

CESW notifies townships and businesses of possible legal action to pay for landfill cleanup

By Dennis Mansfield
Managing Editor

Local townships and the City of Grayling, along with more than 200 businesses and other organizations, are being placed on notice.

In a letter dated May 20, City Environmental Services Inc. of Waters (CESW), notified the parties in a five-page letter "of their potential legal responsibility" relating to the environmental cleanup at the former Crawford-Otsego Landfill in Maple Forest Township "where hazardous substances were released or have come to be located during Crawford/Otsego counties' ownership and operation of the facility."

"This letter also serves as a notice of intent to sue for cost recovery and/or contribution for the cost of remediating the existing contamination at the facility," according to the letter. "As part of the sale of the landfill facility to CESW, the Authority, and Crawford and Otsego counties made certain promises to CESW which they have failed to honor, including the promise to amend the county solid waste management plan to expand the service area. As such, CESW, in a effort to mitigate its damages, must now attempt to recover costs it incurred and will incur in remediating the Authority's landfill."

The letter is signed by Susan Johnson, environmental counsel for CESW.

In March and April, four of the seven municipalities in Crawford County voted against amending the county solid waste management plan, which would have allowed a total of 26 counties to dispose of household waste at the landfill.

Brain Hulbert, Frederic Township supervisor, said the matter would be handed over to the township insurance carrier, with any possible damages being paid through a liability policy. Frederic Township pays approximately $10,000 annually for liability insurance, according to Hulbert.

"There is no lawsuit," said Mike Nelson, who also serves as legal counsel for CESW. "Under state and federal law, we have to give prior notice before taking any action. All the townships received notice."

"The notice had to be sent out," he added. "Hopefully, all the potentially responsible parties will be notified."

That, according to Nelson, means more businesses and other organizations may receive similar letters. He said any parties which disposed of waste at the landfill that can be identified could be part of future legal action. Under state law, each must receive legal notice of such action 60 days in advance.

Among those named locally are the Crawford AuSable Day Care, Crawford County Road Commission, Greater Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce, Jack Milikin Inc., Camp Grayling and the M.A.T.E.S. facility, and Wolohan Lumber. State agencies listed include the the Department of Natural Resources and Hartwick Pines State Park, Michigan Department of Corrections and Department of Social Services.

Also listed is Milltown Refuse Service, previously owned by county Commissioner Robert McLachlan. McLachlan sold the waste hauling company in 1992 to CESW.

"I got one of those (letters) last week," McLachlan said. "The way I understand it, and I'm not sure I understand it that well, is that they

Question of additional trustees added to Grayling Twp. agenda for annual meeting scheduled June 20th

By Terry Wright
Staff Writer

Grayling Township will soon add two positions to its board of trustees if current board member John Medler has his way.

Increased representation, with the addition of two more trustees, is an issue to Medler. "We need the representation," Medler said. "It should be on the agenda at the annual meeting."

With a population of 5,647 reported in the 1990 census, Grayling Township could opt to become a charter township under Michigan law, according to Evelyn David of the Michigan Township Association.

"They don't have to become a charter township," David said. "But, once they reached a population of 5,000 they became eligible, and there are some benefits."

David listed the benefits to include, expanding the number of trustees for better representation, an enhanced taxing ability, and better protection from annexation.

Townships are not required to obtain charter status to add trustees, according to Grayling Township Supervisor Arnold Stancil.

"There are two townships north of Saginaw that are non-charter townships that have four trustees," Stancil said. "They have populations of 300 people per square mile. Grayling Township has 30 people per square mile."

Under charter status, Grayling Township would be required to bring to four the number of trustees on the township board of trustees. Currently, the board consists of the township supervisor, clerk and treasurer, and two trustees, including Medler, elected by township residents.

"Four trustees would probably be overkill," said Stancil. "I don't think they would get things done any better and it would increase costs for pay, training and education."

Medler disagreed. "The cost would be minimal compared to the dollars they spend on other things," Medler said. "I would think there will be support from the board."

Charter status, mandating the addition of two trustees, can be obtained in two ways according to David, through a vote of the people or by board resolution.

By Terry Wright
Staff Writer

District voters will be going to their respective polls on Monday, June 13 to elect candidates to fill two vacancies on the Crawford-AuSable School District (CASD) Board of Education, two vacancies on the C.O.O.R. ISD Board of Education, and two vacancies for the office of Kirtland Community College (KCC) district trustee.

Three candidates are seeking positions on the CASD board. They are Irene Pettyjohn, Carol Ramaswamy and Brian Banda. Ramaswamy and

"Four trustees would probably be overkill."

If voted in by the people, charter township boards can levy up to five-mills of taxes without a public vote, and ask for another five-mills as a ballot issue. If the charter is obtained through board resolution, all taxes must be presented as ballot issues for voter approval.

Currently Grayling Township is operating under a 1-mill tax levy approved by township voters.

The Grayling Township annual meeting will be held on Saturday, June 25, at 9 a.m. in the township office building on M-72 west.

Election set for June 13th

Candidates vie for two seats on CASD board in Monday's election

Banda are seeking re-election to the four-year slots, while Pettyjohn is seeking her first term on the board.

In the C.O.O.R. Board of Education race, Mary Lance is seeking election and incumbent William Wood is seeking re-election to six-year terms.

Robert Bovee and Roy Spangler, both incumbents, are hoping for re-election to six-year seats on the KCC Board of Education.

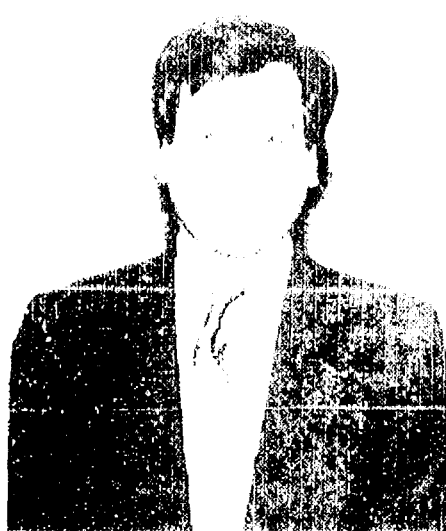

The polls will open at 7 a.m. on Monday and remain open until 8 p.m.

Voters in Precinct One will vote at the Grayling Middle School building.

Precinct One includes all of Grayling Township, the City of Grayling, a portion of Beaver Creek Township and a portion of Bear Lake Township (Kalkaska County).

Voters in Precinct Two will vote at the Frederic Elementary School building. Precinct Two includes Frederic and Maple Forest townships, and a portion of Otsego Lake Township (Otsego County).

Voters in Precinct Three will vote at the Lovells Township Hall. Precinct Three includes all of Lovells Township.

Honors Band caps another successful year

Four GHS Band members perform with State Honors Band at arts fair at Western Michigan

By Dennis Mansfield
Managing Editor

Four members of the Grayling High School Band were among a handful of musicians state-wide that recently performed in the State Honors Band during the Youth Arts Festival at Western Michigan University.

Senior Rene Akers, junior Travis Patrick, and sophomores Trisha Ormsbee and Tim Febey performed in Kalamazoo during the arts fair May 12-15. Akers plays flute, Patrick baritone, Ormsbee the bassoon and Febey trombone.

Senior flutist Melanie Ross was nominated, but was unable to participate due to illness.

"They worked hard for this," said Dennis Ormsbee, director for the GHS Band program. "Not only did they perform well, but their actions were a credit to the Grayling community."

Ormsbee added that being nominated for the state band is one of the top honors band students can receive.

"That's like a basketball player being selected for first string all-state," he said. "It's a big thing."

"North of Bay City, there were approximately 10 members nominated in the State Honors Band. Five of them were from Grayling. It's a big honor for the community of Grayling. It shows the students' dedication to excellence."

"I don't think people realize that having four people (in the Honors Band) from Grayling is unprecedented," said Ormsbee, who has directed Grayling bands for the

The five band students were selected for the band by their proficiency scores during State Solo/Ensemble Festival held at St. Ignace on March 26.

During the arts fair, the GHS Band members participated in both solo and small ensemble concerts, as well as a larger, full band concert. They also attended clinics with members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and WMU instructors.

The nominations to the State Honors Band cap another successful year for the 74-member GHS Band program, which includes concert, marching, jazz and pep band students.

Twenty-five members of the GHS Band all received "I" ratings, the highest possible during District Solo/Ensemble competition in February, with 22 band members later receiving "I" ratings during state competition in March. The GHS Band also received the top rating during both the District Band Festival and state competition.

"It's the first time we've received all 'I' ratings," said Shelley Tober, assistant band director. Tober, who also directs the fifth and seventh grade bands, is in her first year with the GHS band program.

"I don't know many schools who do," Ormsbee said of the year's success. "It's going to be one of those years that is going to be hard to beat."

The GHS Marching Band will participate in the annual AuSable River Festival Parade in July.

Auto show cruises in Frederic

Local car show set for June 11th and 12th at Frederic Township Park

By Terry Wright
Staff Writer

If you like classic cars and yearn for the "cruisin" days of the 50s and 60s, you'll love the Frederic Auto Show on Saturday and Sunday, June 11-12.

The Frederic Auto Show is sponsored every summer by members of the C.C. Cruisers, a group of local car enthusiasts who have built or restored some of the finest cars in the Midwest.

Besides cars, this year's show will feature a variety of entertainment for the entire family.

Saturday will begin with a breakfast buffet at the Swamp II, located next to the Frederic Park. Model cars entered in the kids model car contest will be displayed in the park all day. Kids can enter their models in brackets for ages 6-10, 11-15, and 16 and up. Judging will be done and trophies awarded Sunday afternoon.

Continuing through both days, there will be door prizes, 50/50 raffles and free candy for the kids. The door prizes include two 10-inch bicycles with training wheels for the little kids, and two 20-inch bikes for the older kids.

At 6 p.m. on Saturday, you can dance the "mashed potato" with "Free Wheelin Fred," who will be spinning the greatest hits in his massive oldies-but-goodies collection until 11 p.m.

At 8 p.m., a special guest will be making a one-hour appearance. He's Danny Vann, one of the premier Elvis impersonators in the country. Danny (or Elvis) will be performing about 20 of the King's songs, followed by the return of Free Wheelin Fred.

The highlight of the show will be the "cruise" at 7 p.m. Saturday night, when 150-200 classic cars take the show on the road leaving the Frederic Park and heading to Grayling to cruise the city streets.

On Sunday, the cars will be on display in the park for everyone to envy beginning at 8 a.m. Door prizes and raffles continue throughout the day.

At 3 p.m., a total of 60 trophies and numerous prizes will be awarded in 23 different classic car categories. Some of the grand prizes include two watches valued at $250 each.

Just prior to the car awards, the winners of the model car contest will be awarded trophies and winners of the four bicycles will be announced.

The C.C. Cruisers can be seen each year in most of the surrounding festivals, and they never miss the AuSable River Festival parade and car show. At least six Cruiser cars have won first place trophies at the St. Ignace Car Show, one of the largest car shows in the country, and each year the Cruisers travel to the MOPAR Nationals in Indianapolis. As a club, the Cruisers have won more than 400 trophies.

But, the Cruisers aren't just for show. Each year Cruiser fundraisers provide thousands of dollars in donations to worthwhile charities. In the past, they've given to the Frederic Library, Mercy Hospital Auxiliary, Muscular Dystrophy Association, Grayling Youth Booster Club, Make A Wish Foundation and the Special Olympics. Every penny they take in goes back to the community.

For more information on the Frederic Auto Show or the C.C. Cruisers, persons may call 348-7264, or the Grayling Visitor's Center at 348-4945.

ISSUES AND OPINIONS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Who's stopping who, what with the jail expansion

To the editor:

The front page article on the new jail in which the first paragraph states, "Opponents of the proposed $1.7 million jail expansion project for the Crawford County Jail and Sheriff Department may have to pay the price, if they are able to stop the project."

Who is taking credit for this asinine statement? Please re-read it. If the jail is stopped, (and the judge did stop it) why would the group that filed the lawsuit and the temporary restraining order have to pay? If it's stopped, it's because the judge has legal lawful reasons — correct?

Do you take your readers for idiots? You try to make it sound as if the "Citizens for Environmental Awareness and Accountability in Government" (C.E.A.A.G.) did something illegal — why are you twisting the facts?

The previous week's article stating the "Lawsuit was on hold" is another example of the twisted, slanted, reporting the people are getting for their $0. Didn't you really mean "the jail is on hold" because of the lawsuit filed against the county authorities by C.E.A.A.G.?

The honorable judge stopped the building because this local non-profit group filed the lawsuit questioning the legality of the project. Why not tell it like it happened? Are you prejudice or do you have something against this group?

Why don't you tell the people the facts on the jail? The commissioners say "they don't print the minutes of their board meetings because they can't afford it and they rely on the Avalanche to get the news to the people."

What a joke that statement is — nearly $500,000 in the bank of Tokyo and another $3,000,000 plus in "uninsured" deposits (according to a recent accounting), then spend another $425,000 on a computer system that many persons (with knowledge of computers) say was obsolete when they bought it, and they don't have enough money to print the minutes that would allow the voters to see what's going on? Where do we find this information in the Avalanche? Or where did we get to read the statement by Chairman Long in the June 30, 1993, minutes that "there is an intent to levy additional millage with the construction or operation of the new jail?"

The chairman made this statement. When did the board discuss or vote on it? Another closed session? Isn't this proposed tax increase important enough to the taxpayers for the Avalanche to report on it?

Why did the Avalanche report on the $600,000 "bond issue," (that the taxpayers have to pay back) on the sports page in the Nov. 11 issue 1993 newspaper, instead of on the legal notice page where it belonged? Want more information? Do you think the judge should look at this information? Should we depend on the news media to keep us informed or should C.E.A.A.G. keep digging?

Local cemetery in better condition than many others

To the editor:

My strolling this spring so far has been mostly in the cemetery because of the inventory and the Civil War project that we have been working on.

The cemetery sexton, Peter Stephan, has been working very hard to improve the appearance, and Ken and his prison camp crew have been doing good work with various projects that were necessary. Both sections of the cemetery were mowed before the Memorial Day ceremonies. It really is impossible to mow it every day and weed grasses seem to grow more rapidly than good grass. And anyone living in this area knows how difficult it is to have a good lawn.

Unless my memory fails me, there have been more residents working on the various lots than I have seen in my lifetime here. Certainly those lots are in much better condition than they have ever been. We personally know many people who take care of their own family lots and have adopted other lots to care for. We have done the same and suggest that some of you may also do the same.

We realize there has been some vandalism in the cemetery because some young people have not been taught to respect other's property. However, we think the cemetery is in good condition; you should see some that we have visited!

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank all of those who followed through on our Civil War project, John Keir and the Legion, Col. Owen Moon, Terry Wright, Peter Stephan, and all those involved.

ALMANACK By Richard Milliman

Prescription: Sauce for the governor

SCHOOL CHANGES are set to rock Michigan, now that the Legislature, under heavy prodding from Gov. John Engler, has adopted the so-called educational reform package.

Not everyone likes what's going on. Most teachers, for example, are quite upset. Their union, the Michigan Education Association, is fuming. Parents, by and large, are split.

A sense of humor could be helpful. Making the rounds among school personnel in some areas is a list of suggestions to spread all those good things growing out of the Engler reform program to other parts of government.

Although the document appears to be written somewhat tongue in cheek, there's the distinct possibility the author is dead serious.

Diane Miller of East Lansing, who teaches English and French at St. Johns High School, was kind enough to share her copy with The Almanack. Ms. Miller said she picked it up at a recent union meeting.

The author, unfortunately, is that prolific but bashful artist, Author Unknown, also listed sometimes as Anonymous.

TITLED "HOW about some 'reform' for Lansing?", the author casts an admittedly jaundiced eye on other parts of government, cites the age-old philosophy of "good for the goose, good for the gander," and offers these suggestions:

"—The State Legislature must be in session a minimum of 180 days. If more than two days are called off due to snow, fog, boiler problems, etc., those days must be made up at the end of the year.

"—No day in which less than 65 percent of the legislators are present shall be considered a count-day.

"—All legislators may have two 'personal days' when they are excused from attendance in legislative session. Any other absences shall result in commensurate loss of pay.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Your views are welcome on the Opinion Page. Letters may be typed or handwritten but please double space or use every other line.

Every letter must be signed and an address and phone number should be included. Letters will not be published without the author's name.

Letters are limited to 500 words. The opinions expressed in the letters and columns on this page are solely those of the writer and do not reflect the views of the Crawford County Avalanche.

"—ALL LEGISLATORS and the governor shall be required to take the high school Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) tests in reading, math and science. All test scores will be published on the front pages of newspapers throughout the state. Any politicians who do not pass the MEAP assessments will not achieve 'endorsement public servant' status. Beginning in 1997, anyone who does not pass all three tests will be terminated from office.

"—In keeping with the current spirit of reform, a new MEAP test in ethics will be developed and administered to legislators and the governor, beginning in 1997. Scanty information will be made available about the new test, but politicians are expected to pass it anyway. Local districts whose legislator cannot pass the MEAP ethics test must provide remedial ethics instruction for him/her.

"—Since competition is inherently good, all registered voters will be issued 'voting vouchers' beginning in 1994, which will ensure them to vote in the district of their choice.

"—Any group of interested voters who are dissatisfied with their present district's representation may create a 'charter district' which will receive state funding but which will not have to observe the rules that traditional districts must observe."

DOES THE UNKNOWN author sound just a touch bitter? There's quite a lot of that going around these days among teachers.

Teacher Miller likely is counted among the disillusioned if not the downright bitter. She said she submitted the essay to The Almanack because "I think they [readers] would agree with me that Engler's attack on the educators of Michigan is unbusting under the guise of reform."

She adds: "Beware, state employees and other unions — it could happen to you next."

"But why not turn the tables and 'reform' our 'holier-than-thou' legislature?"

MEAP-like tests for politicians? Voting vouchers for unhappy citizens?

Charter house and senate districts? Hummm. Why not?

LET'S TALK ABOUT IT

By Joe Murphy

A full day of planting made your bed feel mighty good at night. Of course things have changed a lot since those days. The modern machinery of today can do more in an hour than we could in a day of hard work. It was hard, back breaking work, but it put food on the table, which not everyone enjoyed during the depression.

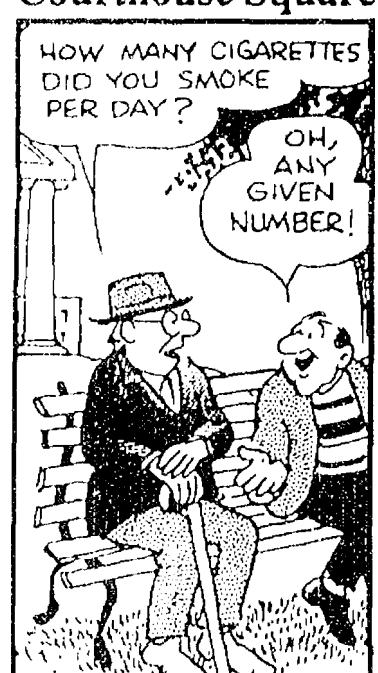

The family farms of yesterday are almost a thing of the past. Today farms run to thousands of acres with monster tractors and equipment. Land long depleted of its natural nutrients produce our food only with the aid of artificial fertilizers. I often times wonder how long it can go on that way.

We look with pride at all the advances man has made in the last 100 years in transportation, communication, medicine and many other fields. Still, when we realize the damage we have inflicted on planet earth in that same time period, we have to wonder if it was worth it.

If we continue to use our natural resources at the rate we are now, how long does man have upon planet earth?

FOREIGN POLICY

FROM THE MOUND

By Dennis Mansfield

Sometimes, by taking the shortcut, a person may miss the beauty of the trip.

This is much like "stop and smell the roses," but I have a reason for my new maxim. I already broke the rule, and may have even found its exception.

Launching from Ray's Canoe Livery with the others, I was one of the many participants in the Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon Pledge Relay on Friday. My partner Miguel Perez and I raced with the other canoes from Ray's to Burton's Landing in the opening leg of the relay, which would later see teams paddling the Marathon course as far as Alcona Dam.

Getting in the water at 6 p.m., I realized graduation ceremonies would start at 8 p.m., with or without me and my trusty camera. So, "Plan A" was to paddle real hard.

Tipping the canoe, along with my partner, was not in the plan, "Plan B." Oops, there was no Plan B, until I saw the Canoe Camp portage. In the spirit of "I gotta make time," the portage was completed and within minutes, so was the first leg of the pledge relay.

Next up, graduation. I watched as the members of the Grayling High School Class of 1994 walked up to the stage, then waited for their name to be called, stepping forward to take their diploma. Their next step was into their future, which is now the present.

I have graduated twice, first from GHS, then from Michigan State University. The two ceremonies don't come close in the number and power of emotions I felt. Sorry MSU, you're a distant second on this one.

Actually, the graduation I remember most is that of my brother Doug. I was playing the tuba, but stopped when I heard his name called. Being the youngest of three brothers, I realized my adolescence was coming to an end. I knew then I would make the same walk up to the stage three years later, shaking hands and then packing to leave the family nest for MSU.

After five years at State, I again walked up to a stage. I was handed a piece of rolled up paper that "Congratulations," with my bachelor's degree showing up in the mail weeks later. Somehow, it just wasn't the same.

There was something new for the Class of '94 -- Project Graduation. More than 60 graduates were shipped to Kirtland Community College, where they enjoyed food, fun and friendship courtesy of parents and volunteers.

My camera and I again showed up just as the graduates arrived. Having to get up for the final leg of the Pledge Relay, 4001 Bridge to Alcona Dam, I left the party early for home.

In one night, I had seen the best of the Grayling community. People packed the GHS gym in support of the next generation of young adults to leave the safe nest of home.

I witnessed the first-ever attempt to provide a safe, and most enjoyable, place to celebrate.

I was able to participate in an event to help support "The Marathon" which brings so much to our community.

To the volunteers and organizers of Project Graduation, thanks for caring enough and all your efforts.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN BY PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives . . . also knows where it goes."

Multiple Problems, But Only One Solution

Dear Percy Ross: Problems, problems, problems. That's what this year has been--one right after another. The furnace broke down, the cat got sick, one of my 4 kids broke his arm, my husband got laid off and I'm pregnant with number five. This list isn't in order of importance, just in the order things happened. But the real clincher is our van broke down. Without transportation, that's it.

We've got to get that van up and running or our situation becomes totally hopeless. Without it there's no way my husband can get another job, we can't get parts to repair things or get sick kids/animals medical attention, not to mention--where am I going to have this baby? At home on the kitchen table? Parts will run about $550 and my husband can do the labor. Please, Mr. Ross, light my fire because the flame is going out.

Mrs. S. T. ... Chronicle Telegram, Elyria, OH

Dear Mrs. T.: Americans are being held hostage by inoperable cars. Your situation typifies, "...this is wrong and that's wrong, but if we could just get our vehicle running, we can work out anything that comes along."

I'm led to believe our society is crumbling, not because the family unit is breaking down, but because our vehicles break down. Where there's mobility, there's hope and yours comes in the form of $550.

Dear Mr. Ross: Since you're so generous in giving out money, I decided to write. I need one million dollars. Why? Because I'm sick and tired of living from paycheck to paycheck. Both me and my husband work. He's a janitor for a church and I'm a phlebotomist. We have two boys. My husband had a wreck about 6 months ago. He only had liability insurance, so now we're down to one car. And got this--the accident wasn't even his fault.

I'm so tired of people saying, "Just pray, the Lord will make a way." Well, I think He forgot about me and my family. We can't even get food stamps because we make just above the poverty level. I went to the emergency room a couple of months ago (we also can't afford medical insurance) for a kidney stone. During the 4 hour wait I passed the stone and was charged $900 just for sitting there. Now they're going to take it out of my paycheck. I'm so very, very angry. I really don't expect you to give me one million dollars or even one dollar. I just wanted to air a little dirty laundry.

"Poor as Hell" ... Commercial Appeal, Memphis, TN

Dear Poor: With two incomes just meeting monthly costs, I imagine it's like walking on eggshells, praying that nothing breaks down or that no one gets sick. But is the glass half empty or half full? You do have jobs and relatively good health. At least one-third of our U.S. population would trade places with you any day. I'm sending you a modest check with the hope that it helps brighten your perspective. In other words, if I can't talk you into a better attitude, I'm willing to pay for one.

Dear Percy: I'm married to a real couch potato. All my husband does when he gets home from work is park his butt in front of the T.V. with a 6-pack of beer. He's beginning to look like he's 6 months pregnant, yet he insists he's lost 20 lbs. by cutting down from a full-bag to a half-bag of chips each night.

Mr. Ross, what can I tell this man to get him to acknowledge his weight gain? Maybe if you'd send us some money so he could switch to drinking brand name light beer, it might help.

Mrs. F. M. ... Thrifty Nickel, Fort Worth, TX

Dear Mrs. M.: You folks don't need my financial help, you need a lifestyle change. As for getting your husband to fess up to his weight gain, tell him if he thinks he's lost any pounds, he can step on the scale and he'll probably find them.

Write Percy Ross, P.O. Box 39000-B, Minneapolis, MN 55439. Include your phone number and name of this publication. All letters are read. Only a few are answered in this column; others may be acknowledged privately.

SENIOR CITIZEN NEWS

By Jan Farley

Special thought for the week: Most of us hope for a long life — but hate to grow old to achieve it.

We were short on June birthday people at the BK Bingo birthday party; partly due, I'm sure, to it being on the very first of the month. Next month be sure to come on the first Wednesday of the month. Happy Birthday to those of you June buddies, regardless.

Our Sunday brunch was very well attended! The food was delicious and the company was divine! Next month we have to move from the first Sunday to the second one because of the Fourth of July holiday. Mark your calendars ahead of time!

Meals at the center are good, nourishing, and well balanced plus you don't have to cook or do the dishes. Any senior, or spouse, in Crawford County that is 60 or older, regardless of their income, race, creed and national origin, are welcome. Suggested donation is $1.50 and $2.50 for those under 60. Reservations are needed because it is important to have an idea of how many people are coming so that we have enough food. Meals are served at noon and 5 p.m.,

Monday through Thursday and at noon on Fridays. Menus are subject to change and are listed as Lunch/Dinner:

June 8-Fish/Baked Chicken;
June 9-Swiss Steak/Stuffed Turkey;
June 10-Meatloaf;
June 13-Hot Beef Sandwich/Salmon Patty;

We had a wonderful surprise last Thursday. We received a call from the Weyerhaeuser Corporation, asking us if we still needed a computer. If so, could we possibly come out and pick one up? They donated a beautiful 386 computer to our program and we can't thank them enough. Our computer that we are using currently is just not big enough for our purposes. They responded to a letter that we had sent to them letting them know of our need. I could never be able to put into words just what this means to us. We want to thank all the people at Weyerhaeuser Corporation for their quick response to our need. Thank you to Nancy and Lisa for helping me to load it in my car and all the wonderful people at the gate and front desk for the special way they treated me when I arrived there. I have never met such courteous people.

While we're at thanking people, we would also like to thank Chemical Bank for their generous donation of $25 Grayling Shopper Dollars for a door prize for our Recognition Dinner. Recognition Dinner just wouldn't be the same without the support of our community.

We still need people for the Crawford County Fair, Hartwick Pines, and Meals on Wheels. We need help with the town route on Meals on Wheels for Mondays. If you are 55 years old or older and have a spare hour or two we sure could use your help. We offer mileage reimbursement and insurance, so don't let lack of funds stop you. Give us a call at 348-4341, Stephanie and I are waiting anxiously for your call.

WINNER OF YOUTH LEADERSHIP AWARD ANNOUNCED—Robert Doherty II (center) of Grayling, son of Robert and Karen Doherty, has been selected as first place winner in his Junior Teen Service Club. The Beacon Award is given to the young person who has best exemplified the Modern Woodmen of America Fraternal Spirit in the community. His trophy was presented at a club meeting. The contest was open to the children who are members of Modern Woodmen of America's Junior and Teen Service Clubs. Robert is in seventh grade at Grayling Middle School. The entrants were judged on participation in club activities such as community service projects, and helping the local Matching Fund Project. Also rated were cooperation, character, service to others and attitude. The other club finalists were: Amy Doherty (left) and Michelle Salyers (right). They received a special medallion to commemorate their achievement. Each club's winner will advance to regional competition. Patty Salyers, leader of the club, said, "This is an honor that only comes every four years. One member is chosen to address the convention as the youth ambassador. We know the competition will be heavy, but regardless, our club is very proud of Robert."

We especially need the help of donors to get the message to potential donors that their live-giving gift is vital."

Kirtland Community College will be offering this four hour seminar on Wednesday evening, June 15, from 6 to 10 p.m. Cost is $39 per person, which includes reference materials. Students will be provided with up to date information on planning and organizing a business.

For further information or to register, contact Kirtland's Community Services Office at 517-275-5121, extension 210.

Introduction to MS-DOS, a one day non-credit course examining the computer's disk operating system, will be held at KCC on Friday, June 24. The course will meet from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the college's Administration Center.

This course will teach participants what goes on inside the computer besides just running an application program and will cover basic information. A reference manual will be supplied. Cost is $42 per person.

For further information or to register contact Kirtland's Community Services Office at 517-275-5121, extension 210.

Therapeutic massage is a natural way to relax and rejuvenate your mind and body. KCC will be offering the opportunity to learn the basics of therapeutic massage on Tuesday evenings, June 14, 21, and 28, from 6 to 9 p.m. at the CRAF Center in downtown Roscommon.

Participants are asked to bring two flat sheets and two hand towels and to wear loose fitting clothing (such as a sweatshirt).

Cost is $39 per person. The course will be taught by Allison Goshorn, Certified Massage Therapist.

For further information or to register, contact Kirtland's Community Services Office at 517-275-5121, extension 210.

A video conference entitled "Compassion Fatigue, The Stress of Caring Too Much," will be offered at KCC on Thursday June 23, from 1 to 3 p.m. (it will be rebroadcast on Tuesday, June 28 from 9 until 11 a.m.).

Secondary Traumatic Stress is unique to caregivers. Anyone working with people who are in a crisis can feel stress because they suffer with those who are suffering. Without identification and treatment it may become severe or even debilitating, then meeting the criteria for designation as Secondary Traumatic Stress Disorder, or Compassion Fatigue.

The focus of this two hour teleconference will be to identify Secondary Traumatic Stress Disorder and Compassion Fatigue and how these differ from burnout and countertransference. The biological and environmental factors which affect those at risk will be examined along with the effectiveness of early diagnosis and treatment and prevention measures.

This program is targeted toward family therapists, mental health counselors, child protection and juvenile workers, medical professionals, educators, counselors of all types, disaster workers, police and firefighters, and anyone who helps to support or works with those who have suffered from traumatic or stressful experiences.

Cost for the seminar is $12 per person. A limited number of scholarships are available for those who need financial assistance with the registration fee. For further information or to register call Kirtland's Community Services Office at 517-275-5121, extension 210.

Empire National Bank announces Good Neighbor Award winners

Empire National Bank announced the winners of the fifth annual Good Neighbor Award at the annual meeting of shareholders of Empire Banc Corporation May 17.

Five residents of northwest lower Michigan were named 1993 Good Neighbors in honor of their service to their communities. Keith Coykendall of Grayling, Beatrice Kimmerly of Omena, Virginia Zigler of Kalkaska, and Susan Shafer and Sandra Svec of Traverse City, were each awarded a plaque and a $500 donation to their favorite charity.

"They are the people who make their corner of the world a much nicer place," said Empire National Bank Chairman James E. Dutmers, Jr.

Keith Coykendall is a volunteer with the Crawford County Department of Social Services as both a driver and a Volunteer Advisory Board member. As a driver, Coykendall transports the elderly and disabled to medical appointments as far away as Flint and Ann Arbor. He also escorts children in foster care to appointments with their parents so the children can have contact with them. He drives an average of 1,563 miles per month and has helped over 400 people in the last four years.

Beatrice Kimmerly of Omena, is a long-time volunteer in that area. She volunteers at the Care Center at Leelanau Memorial Hospital, where she visits patients each week and helps with special events like the Halloween party. She is treasurer of Club 21, which works closely with the Care Center and also provides educational opportunities to Northport students, and has been active with the Leelanau Christian Neighbors Food Pantry since its inception in 1988.

Virginia Zigler coordinates the transportation needs for clients of the Kalkaska County Department of Social Services, often driving as far away as Petoskey, Ann Arbor and Flint. She also coordinates the parent/child visitation program for foster children so they keep in touch with their biological parents, and works with the Kalkaska Commission on Aging and Alcoholics Anonymous and counsels families affected by domestic violence. She has also organized Christmas dinners for the homeless and is currently making plans for the 1994 dinner.

For six years, Susan Shafer has worked with Doula Teen Parent Program of the Northwest Michigan Child Guidance Center. Currently volunteer coordinator, Shafer has worked with five young women as mentor or labor coach, dedicating herself for as many as three years to insure stable guidance for the young women. She organizes her pet project, the Christmas gift program, to make sure each mother and child receives a Christmas gift, and opens her home for the annual bake sale and garage sale.

Through the Community Meals Program, Sandra Svec works to make sure that the lonely and needy of Grand Traverse County have a hot meal during holidays like Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas. She coordinates the efforts of a team of volunteers, who pick up and deliver food donated by local restaurants. This past Easter, the program delivered 270 meals and served an additional 180 at their sit-down dinner; on Christmas, the program fed over 500 people.

Empire National Bank's Good Neighbor Award was established in 1989 and recognizes individuals who volunteer their time and energy to serving others in each of the communities in which the bank has branches.

AREA HAPPENINGS

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce will present an important program for Grayling area businesses in the month of June. An "Eggs & Issues" program will be held Tuesday, June 14 at 8 a.m. at the Iron Gate Restaurant in Grayling. John Hunt, environmental manager of Camp Grayling will present "Camp Grayling National Guard; The Facts Regarding The Environmental Impact Study."

Reservations are limited and will be granted to chamber member businesses on a first come basis. There is a $6 fee for the meal and program for members. If seating is available, non-Chamber member businesses will be accommodated at $10 per person.

Mother/Daughter banquet held

The annual Mother/Daughter banquet at the Frederic Hobby Club was held May 9.

The program began with a welcome to guests by club President Margaret Gugin, followed by the introduction of the speaker Rev. Dale Hammond by club Vice President Peggy Robinson. Rev. Hammond blessed the potluck supper and 46 people enjoyed the meal. Gugin gave the toast to the mothers and Esther Weaver gave the toast to the daughters.

The whole group joined in to sing Mother then Rev. Hammond delivered a very thoughtful, pleasant speech about the necessity of mothers.

The ladies of the Hobby Club sang an old favorite song, The Old, Old Path.

Gifts were presented to the following: Esther Weaver for most generations and oldest mother with a daughter present; Linda Newberry for most daughters present; Linda Marciano for being the youngest mother; Dawn Barajas was the mother that traveled the farthest; and her daughter, Cara Barajas, was the youngest daughter.

The program ended with America the Beautiful as the last song of the evening.

The Bible Speaks

From the Calvary Baptist Church

Righteous Lost, Sinner Saved!

Jesus spoke a parable about a self-righteous Pharisee who publicly scorned a sinning publican when both came to God's house to pray. (LUK 18:9, 10). "The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men [are], extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even this publican. I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess." (LUK 18:11, 12).

The Pharisee was praying "with himself" only. He gave God credit for his self-righteousness. He said he did not practice outward sins like those of the publican. By fasting twice a week he proved he was very pious and devoted to his religion. He sacrificed his income by faithfully giving God 10% of everything he made. He worshipped regularly at God's house. He lived a clean moral life. His worship included abstaining from food two days a week. Some may even have called him a religious fanatic.

"And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as [his] eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast saying, God be merciful to me a sinner." (LUK 18:13). The publican surely thought he was worse off than the Pharisee. As he listened to the Pharisee pray, no doubt he agreed that the Pharisee lived a better life than he did. The publican may even have felt like getting up and going home to avoid such public humiliation. In fact, the publican was too embarrassed to even look up toward the presence of God. He smote upon his breast acknowledging his own sinfulness. He pleaded with God only for mercy to forgive him for his terrible sins.

God answered the prayer of this publican, but not the Pharisee. "I tell you, this man went down to his house justified [rather] than the other: for everyone that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted." (LUK 18:14). God saved and declared just the sinning publican, while leaving the self-righteous Pharisee lost.

The publican could have used a modern excuse to stay home, "God's house is full of hypocrites." He could have stayed home, died in his sins and spent eternity in Hell with all the hypocrites. But he chose to attend God's house in worship even though he knew he was unworthy. What about you my friend? Do you worship God each week in His house? "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some [is]; but exhorting [one another]: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." (HEB 10:25). Don't let the proud pronouncements of some phony Pharisee rob you of the joy of worshipping God in His house. Don't sacrifice your spiritual blessings for time and eternity on the altar of some hell-bound hypocrite's ego.

Church Directory

COFFEE, TEA AND CORNPLASTERS...

There aren't many of us left who remember Sixbey's General Store. It was more than a store; it was a gathering place, a new bureau, a bright spot in a child's summer afternoon.

You would come in from the hot dusty street, and the shaded store was cool. Immediately you encountered a tantalizing blend of scents—apples, licorice, spices and smoked ham. Grown-up conversation enhanced your feeling of excitement as they viewed and reviewed town happenings. You always took a long time to decide between a chocolate or a lemon drop, so that this exciting visit could be prolonged.

Our town has changed since then. For those of us whose memories linger in Sixbey's Store, it hardly seems the same place.

Yet, one thing's the same. At the corner of Elm and Main, St. Mark's steeple still points skyward. Our need for God never changes. And the Church remains constant as it teaches the truths of God's love and presence. Why not see for yourself this week?

VERSE OR WORSE

By Joe Murphy

The Gift of Life

One of the most important things being wasted today
Are healthy organs that are rotting in the grave
If medical science had those organs to utilize
Think of all the lives they could save

Say a young man is killed in a highway wreck
And a young healthy heart is stilled
If that heart can be used to give another life
Shouldn't that life-giving need be fulfilled

There are those who walk in darkness
Who with a retina transplant could see
Not to use those eyes that will see no more
Seems like a terrible waste to me

It must be frustrating to doctors with the skill
To have to stand by and watch a patient die
Knowing if he had the organs to transplant
He could give life and hope to the poor guy

Folks that feel we should reuse and recycle
Everything that we possibly can
Seem to have a real hang-up
About reusing the healthy organs of man

What great gift has man to give
Than the gift of life or sight
Would you be willing to make that gift
If you should be killed tonight

If so let your wishes be known
To those who will be the ones to decide
Knowing your organs will be used to give others life
Is something in which you can feel pride

MAZIE NEEDS A HOME--Mazie is a 1 1/2 year old female mixed breed. She has had her vaccinations, is housebroken and good with children. If you would like to give her a home, or any of the other animals at the shelter, stop by or give them a call at 348-4117.

The week will not be a productive one if greater effort is not put forth. Concentrate more fully on current endeavors.

A broader social life could put you in touch with some very influential people; it could also put you behind at work, so pace yourself. Changes are coming, so expect some excitement as well as consternation at work. Remember that not all change is bad.

Let someone know you care. A quick phone call or short note could really brighten up that special person's day.

A little more realism in your spending habits would greatly help your budget. Set limits to your spending.

Financial independence has its price. If you want to remain independent, be more thoughtful of those who are not.

Avoid travel by air when planning your vacation. Take the "scenic" route and take your time.

Don't be afraid to ask questions. How do you learn if you don't ask? And don't forget to be patient with those who ask of you.

Old traditions are wonderful, but sometimes they must be updated. Combining the old with the new can sometimes begin a new tradition.

The sheer joy of romance may cloud your view. You will have to come back down to earth sometime and the fall could break your heart.

Give homelife your full attention this week. Children need extra guidance. Make plans for how they should spend the summer.

Try an innovative approach with an old problem. Sometimes a surprise attack works best.

Master Donald Smock and Sam Gust and is to be congratulated upon his celebrating their birthdays this success.

afternoon by entertaining their young friends at birthday parties.

Word has been received of the marriage of Miss Mildred McEvers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. McEvers, to John Flynn of Detroit, at her home in Rochester. The McEvers were former Grayling residents.

Don Reynolds' ability as an orator was especially recognized when he was awarded a certificate and a silver and bronze medal by the Detroit News. He has done much to bring honors to his class of 1923 during his high school career in his debating and speaking.

JA organizers already looking to next fall

By Dennis Mansfield
Managing Editor

As the 1993-1994 school winds to a close, the members of Grayling Business/Education Partnership Committee are already planning for fall and the upcoming school year.

This spring committee members established Junior Achievement (JA) pilot programs at the Grayling Middle School and Grayling High School. They are now looking to build on this year's success.

Junior Achievement is a national organization which works with schools to teach financial and economic lessons, while also stressing the need to students to stay in school and getting their diploma. Local organizers are now looking for volunteers and funding for the 1994-1995 school year.

"We're looking for funding for 15 classes next year," said Don Schanz, Human Resource manager at Weyerhaeuser Co. and JA member. "Each class cost about $500, and the 15 classes will require 30 consultants. "Once people hear the story of Junior Achievement, funding will be secondary. It will be getting time from consultants that will be the issue," he added.

Butch Stockton, whose eight grade class at GMS was one of the pilot programs, said that lessons, such as on checking accounts and the stock market, taught by the JA volunteers, called consultants, added to their classroom experiences. Training and classroom materials are provided by JA for those volunteering to be a consultant.

Jennifer Ojala, sales and marketing director for Chemical Bank North in Grayling, became a consultant after attending a JA workshop.

"I got involved in their interview workshop as a volunteer at the school last year," she said. "I like their approach in the way they work with kids."

WORKING TOGETHER—Jennifer Ojala (center), sales and marketing director of Chemical Bank North of Grayling, and students of Butch Stockton's eighth grade class work on designing paper airplanes during a class project for Junior Achievement. The exercise was to show students how to set up and manage their own company, in this case an airplane company.

"It was learning both ways. It was encouraging to see them learn. Plus, by seeing them respond and what their going through, I learned a lot, too," Ojala said.

For more information, interested persons may call the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce at (517) 348-2921 or Don Schanz at 348-3460.

CESW places area townships, businesses on notice

have set up a way to clean up the damage.

"I've been trying to find out what my liability is," he said. "Over the years, I've probably touched 80 percent of the garbage in this county. Was it my garbage or whose garbage was it? There's a lot of technicalities."

McLachlan said the possibility of legal action also places him in a "gray area," as far as his position on the county board.

Until January of this year, McLachlan had abstained from voting on issues relating to the landfill because of possible conflict of interest. When the landfill was sold by the Crawford-Otsego Landfill Authority in 1991 to CESW, McLachlan, who at the time was chair of the board, had to abstain from the vote for the county to enter a sale agreement. Vice Chair Joseph Callewert chaired the meeting and signed the letter of intent to sell the landfill, with McLachlan having left the meeting room, according to county records.

CESW is under a consent agreement with the Department of Natural Resources to cleanup ground-water contamination at the landfill site. The cleanup process was the focus of a public forum on May 25 at the County Building.

Ground water will be extracted by using six wells, spaced approximately 300-400 feet apart, and treated with a high-pressure air stripper that will separate contaminants from the water. The "clean" water will then be pumped back into the ground. According to the plan, the ground water will be tested quarterly from 15 monitoring wells.

"I still have several questions," said Lynette Corlew, who attended the May 25 meeting. "I think anything is better than nothing. They're going to try to do something."

She added, "Those particles (separated from the air stripper from the water) will become airborne. That bothers me."

Corlew said CESW officials down played the amount of the contaminants and any harm from the contaminants being placed into the air.

Nelson said the hearing was part of the notification process, outlining the remediation plan that may be paid by parties listed in the letter. The remediation plan is outlined in three volumes and is on display at the Crawford County Library, but may not be checked out of the library.

Viking boys' diamond team ousted in district opener

READY TO RACE HOME-- Viking senior Jeremiah Blaauw (R) leads off from third base as Viking Coach Fred Wolcott (L) directs him as third base coach. The Vikings were eliminated from district baseball action when they lost the tournament opener to the Harrison Hornets.

GHS' Chris Wolcott named 1994 Michigan athlete/scholar by Detroit Free Press

Grayling High School senior athletic standout Chris Wolcott was named a Michigan Athlete Scholar by the Detroit Free Press on Wednesday, June 1.

In a special magazine section dedicated to Michigan's scholar athletes, Wolcott was among more than 600 seniors statewide who have excelled at sports while maintaining honor roll caliber grades.

"They represent the best Michigan has to offer in academics and athletics," the Free Press reported.

In his four years at GHS, Wolcott excelled in football, basketball and baseball, while graduating with a 3.09 grade-point-average.

Wolcott was a two-year starter at quarterback for the GHS varsity football team. As a senior, he won conference and team most valuable player honors, and led the Great Northern Conference in passing.

A two-year letterman in basketball, as a senior team captain, he led his team to a 20-3 season record and a district tournament championship. He was named as a conference most valuable player and a member of the all-division team. He also received his team's Most Improved Award and Hustle Award.

In baseball, again as team captain, Wolcott was awarded the most improved player award. He was a starting rotation pitcher, and from the plate he finished the season with better than a .400 batting average.

While sports and scholastics have brought him many honors, Wolcott has many other interests. As a saxophone player, he has been a member of Grayling school bands since the fifth-grade, and he has never missed an opportunity to work and donate blood at GHS blood banks. He was named Homecoming King in 1993 and, away from school, he is an avid fisherman.

Wolcott attends church at St. Mary's in Grayling where he has been an altar boy since the age of seven.

He has enrolled in Central Michigan University and will pursue a degree in wildlife biology beginning in the fall. He was the recipient of a Father Louis Ivandic scholarship and an American Legion scholarship.

Wolcott is the son of Fred and Barbara Wolcott of Grayling.

The Grayling High School baseball season came to a close on Tuesday, May 31, when the Vikings dropped their district tournament opener, 7-5, to a tough and determined team from Harrison.

The game was highlighted by good pitching and defense. Harrison's starting pitcher went the distance for the Hornets, claiming the win by giving up only five Viking hits, while striking out ten.

Senior Viking hurler, Chris Wolcott in the last game of an outstanding high school career, took the loss by scattering only five Hornet hits while fanning seven.

The Vikings took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the third on singles by senior Travis Eddy and sophomore Andy Perrin, but the lead was short lived.

The Hornets struck back in the top of the fourth on a three-run home run, following a walk and a hit batter, to take a 3-2 lead.

Harrison's defense faltered in the bottom of the fourth, when junior Chip Waite and sophomore Jason Thompson crossed the plate for the Vikings on two Hornet errors, allowing the Vikes to take a 4-3 lead.

Again the Hornets came back in the top of the fifth, claiming a 5-4 lead.

The Vikings knotted the score at 5-5 in the sixth when Wolcott reached base on an error and scored on singles by Thompson and Waite.

In the top of the seventh, the Hornets scored the final runs of the game, as the Vikings' defense faltered with a walk and two errors, leaving the final score at 7-5.

"Neither team should have scored that many runs," Viking Coach Fred Wolcott said. "But, it was an exciting game. We played hard but just didn't get the win."

The Vikings' five hits all came on singles by Thompson, Waite, Perrin, Eddy and junior Chris Jones.

The Hornets continued on in district play Saturday against the Roscommon Bucks.

The Vikings will hold their annual baseball awards ceremony on Thursday, June 16 at 5 p.m. at Bucilli's Restaurant in downtown Grayling.

Pledge relay raises funds for 1994 AuSable Marathon

By Dennis Mansfield
Managing Editor

More than 50 paddlers from local businesses and organizations, as well as individuals, took to the waters of the AuSable River on Friday, June 3rd in support of the 47th Annual Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon, set for July 30-31.

The paddlers participated in the annual "Pledge Relay," raising more than $5,000 in support of the race that attracts thousands of tourists to the Grayling area each year. The relay kicked off at Ray's Canoe Livery in Grayling at 6 p.m. on Friday, and finished at Alcona Dam at about 11 a.m. on Saturday.

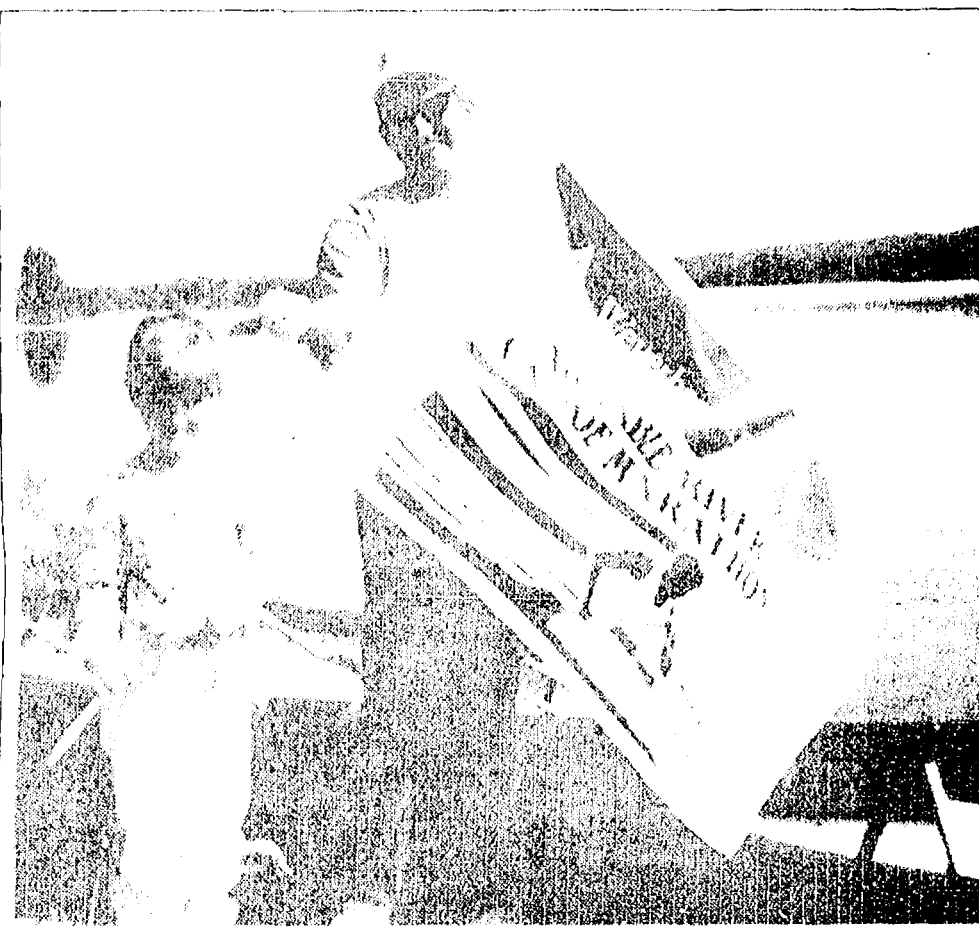

Local businesses and civic organizations helped raise funds by sponsoring "VIP" canoes for $100 each, with teams paddling from Ray's to Burton's Landing.

A cook out was held at Burton's Landing on Friday, before two teams paddled the Marathon course to Alcona Dam.

"The basis is to raise money," said Scott Fick, co-chair of the event. "Each paddler is to raise at least $100. It goes to the Marathon fund for the prize money."

This year's Marathon will have a purse of more than $47,000, largest in race history. The Marathon is organized by the Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon Committee, which has a budget for 1994 approaching $150,000, only half of which is funded by sponsors. The committee is operated by an all-volunteer staff.

Persons interested in working on "The Marathon" may call the race office at (517) 348-4425.

Corbin, Carriere set for Triple Crown three-peat in 1994

By Dennis Mansfield
Managing Editor

In its first two years, Serge Corbin of Quebec has not lost a race in the Triple Crown of North American Canoe Racing.

If the first race of the trifecta is any indication, racers for the 47th annual Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon, set for July 30-31, might want to do some extra training.

Corbin, and partner Solomon Carriere of Saskatchewan, Canada, are set for the sweep again after winning the first leg of the Triple Crown, the 32nd Annual General Clinton Canoe Regatta in Bainbridge, NY. The race and other events were held May 27-30.

The Triple Crown consist of the General Clinton, the Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon and the La Classique de Canots in Quebec. Corbin and Carriere swept all three events in 1993, while Corbin also won all three events in 1992 with partner Brett Stockton of Grayling.

Corbin and Carriere finished the course in a winning time of 7:53:15, more than four minutes ahead of the second place team.

"(Corbin) is one of the most dominating athletes in his sport," said Steve Southard of Grayling, who attended the race. "When they decided to leave the rest of the pack, they did."

"Serge's strategy is to stick with the next fastest person than himself. He'll go as fast as he needs too. Then, when he decides he need to go, he goes," said Southard, who has helped organize the AuSable River Canoe Marathon for the past 15 years. "There hasn't been anyone who dominates his sport like he does."

"The closest comparison would be like a Larry Bird or Michael Jordan, who dominates when they need too," he added.

The best finish by a local team was seventh by Bill Torongo of Roscommon and Jeff Kolka of Grayling, finishing in 8:05:50. Jim Harwood of Grayling and Butch Stockton of Grayling placed tenth with a time of 8:13:46.

Carrie Trudgeon of Grayling teamed with New York native Robert Silvermail, finishing 29th, with a time of 8:39:38, the second-best time by a mixed team.

Other Michigan teams finishing the race were: John Sullivan of Lansing and Steve Kolonich of Eaton Rapids (13th, 8:16:42), Mike Montgomery of Oscoda and Ray Yehl of East Tawas (21st, 8:28:39), Roxanne Barton of Homer and Connie Cannon of East Lansing (25th, 8:33:04), Robert Bradford of Lapeer and Kathy Jensen of Phillips (27th, 8:37:55), Everett Crozier of Marinette, Wis. and Joe Johnson of Menominee (30th, 8:41:26), Daniel Gary and Brad Wassman, both of Oscoda (33rd, 8:43:22), Tom Cannon of East Lansing and Lynne Witte of Mt. Clemens (34th, 8:44:23), and Albert Widing of Mio and Ray Quick of Millington (41st, 8:57:23).

"We're hoping we might get some of the New York racers here," Southard said. "Anyone who finishes the (General Clinton) race is eligible for the Triple Crown."

Southard added that the purse for the Triple Crown should increase from $5,800 in 1993 to maybe more than $7,500 for the 1994 series.

"It will be paid to the top 20 teams, rather than the top 10 like last year," he said.

FOX RUN GOLF NEWS

By Dick Spenny

D Day fell on June 1 for at least two flight leading teams in the Fox Run Men's League. In flight two, Don Nester and Stu Beauregard could only stand and take a 12.5 point loss to the new flight leaders, Dick Figley and Jerry DeWitt. Figley birdied three holes to net at 33 and vault his team into the lead.

Greg Eikey and Pat Opper actually lost their match but went into first place in the fourth flight as Doug Allen and Mike Nowak were buried under a 16.5 to 4.5 point loss to cellar dwellers Jim Anderson and Jim DeWitt. DeWitt netted at 33 thanks to steady play on the back nine.

In flight three, there seemed to be little doubt that Don Routly and Steve Amant were holding a comfortable lead. Steve Green and Leo Johns don't hold that view and they proved it with a 14.5 to 6.5 point win in a head to head contest with the leaders. This flight is now a very close race.

The champagne is already on ice for first flighters Jess Nester and Bob Jansen. They hold a 15 point lead over their nearest competitors with only three weeks left in the half. Dick Bradley and John Funkey are the trailers.

In individual scoring there seems to be a major surprise every week. John Patchin brought one home this week with an outstanding net score of 28. Despite this, Patchin and partner Ralph Desloover could only manage to split the points against Jim Engelhard and Clare Rood. Dick Bradley's net 32 and Jim DeWitt's 33 highlighted the net division.

Despite 40 degree temperatures and 25 mph winds, scratch scoring was excellent. Six players brought in scores under 40 with Bart Kjolhede setting the pace with a one over 37. Bob Jansen's 39 was his third identical score in a row. Rick Marshall has two 39s and a 38 in three weeks. The league record is four sub-forty rounds in succession.

The Fox Run Ladies League is beginning to show early signs of some interesting races after only two weeks of play. Mires and Sullivan lead flight one by 4.5 points over the Bailey-

Lederman duo. In flight two, Lantzs and Gates lead by three over Coulter and Legg. Schroeder and LaForge are dead even at 27.5 with the team of Waterman and Dennis. Kathy Shingledecker's net 27 was low score of week two. Debbie Bailey's scratch 47 led all league scoring.

SENIOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

Rotary, Georgia-Pacific, and Legion teams were tied with 1-1 records after the first week of Grayling Senior League (ages 13-15) baseball.

Rotary beat Georgia-Pacific 17-7, May 24, behind the pitching of Lee Barnett, who struck out eight. Aaron Perrin and Josh Schoen had two hits each for Rotary and Dave Renon added a single. Ben Haskel led Georgia-Pacific with three hits. Travis Hopp, Eddie Baynham, and Nate Beckwith each had one hit.

On May 25 Legion beat Rotary 6-3. Jerry Roman and Mike Harland pitched for Legion. Brian Jackson and Eric Thompson each had a hit for Legion. Aaron Perrin struck out 15 pitching for Rotary and led the team with two hits. Schoen and Dan Bonamic also had a hit each for Rotary. Tom Parish, Legion catcher, had three put-outs at the plate.

Georgia-Pacific defeated Legion 16-15 on May 26. Nate Beckwith and Eddie Baynham combined pitching for the win. Jeremy Millikin led Georgia-Pacific with two hits. Haskel, Hopp, Jason Potter, Baynham, and Beckwith each had one hit. Brad Ritter, at third, and Bobby Deman, at first, led Georgia-Pacific in defense. Mike Knight, with two hits, led Legion. Warren Bindschattel, Parish, and Thompson each had one hit. Roman and Thompson combined for eight put-outs at shortstop and second.

Softball tournaments kick off in Mio with holiday weekend event

By Ann Bauers
Special to the Avalanche

Fox's Northwoods Garden Softball Stadium was the site of the first area softball tournament of 1994 during the Memorial Day weekend.

"It was our opening tournament for the summer," said Helen Leaf, owner of the softball facility.

The tournament, with games Saturday, Sunday and Monday, was a double elimination event. The overall winner was "Frankies," an out of town team. Frankies came back to win two games against Northwoods of Mio to take home the trophy.

Twelve teams participated in the Memorial Day games.

Northwoods plans to host 11 more tournaments this season, including the popular "All Night Tournament."

"In the past, we have had teams from Monroe, Port Huron, and from as far away as Toledo and Chicago participate," Leaf said.

Person interested in upcoming tournaments may contact John Cross, tournament director, at (517) 826-5139.

Off-Road Vehicle applications available

The Department of Natural Resources announced that applications for grants to maintain existing designated Off-Road Vehicle (ORV) trails, routes and use areas; repair public land damaged by inappropriate ORV use; and develop new ORV trails will be available through the ORV Trail Improvement Fund.

The fund was created to assist the DNR in maintaining a good trail system for ORV users and restoring and correcting areas damaged by ORVs.

"The DNR maintains over 2,500 miles of designated ORV trails and routes statewide," DNR Director Roland Harmes said. "We encourage participation from user organizations and other public agencies to help us maintain this great trail system."

Grand funds are also available to pay for liability insurance, leases or easements. Priority will be given to applications that address existing trail maintenance and restoration needs.

Any public agency or non-profit, incorporated club or organization who has not yet requested a grant application package and wishes to apply for ORV grant assistance for next year should contact the DNR Forest Management Division at 517-373-1275.

All applications must be postmarked by Aug. 1 and mailed to the Department of Natural Resources, Forest Management Division, P.O. Box 30452, Lansing, MI 48909-7952.

Successful applicants will be notified by Feb. 1, 1995.

MILITARY NEWS

Marine Cpl. Timothy J. Pernie, whose wife, Amy, is the daughter of Morey E. and Deb Denton of Grayling, recently departed for a six-month Mediterranean deployment with the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit, Camp Lejeune, NC, as part of the aircraft carrier USS George Washington Joint Task Group.

More than 12,000 Atlantic Fleet Marines and sailors comprise elements of this JTG which includes units of the aircraft carrier USS George Washington Battle Group and the four-ship USS Guam Amphibious Ready Group.

The JTG is made up of cruisers, destroyers, frigates, attack submarines, support ships, and more than 85 aircraft, along with an amphibious transport dock. Deploying with the Guam ARG are approximately 2,000 Marines from Pernie's special operations capable unit.

Modern Naval Expeditionary forces are unique national security assets. No other country has the flexibility or combat capability that the Navy Marine Corps team can provide our nation and its citizens, from the sea.

Pernie is a 1989 graduate of Grayling High School. He joined the Marine Corps in September 1989.

Navy Seaman Recruit Christopher N. Kelley, son of Thomas A. and Beth A. Kelley of Grayling, recently completed basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, IL.

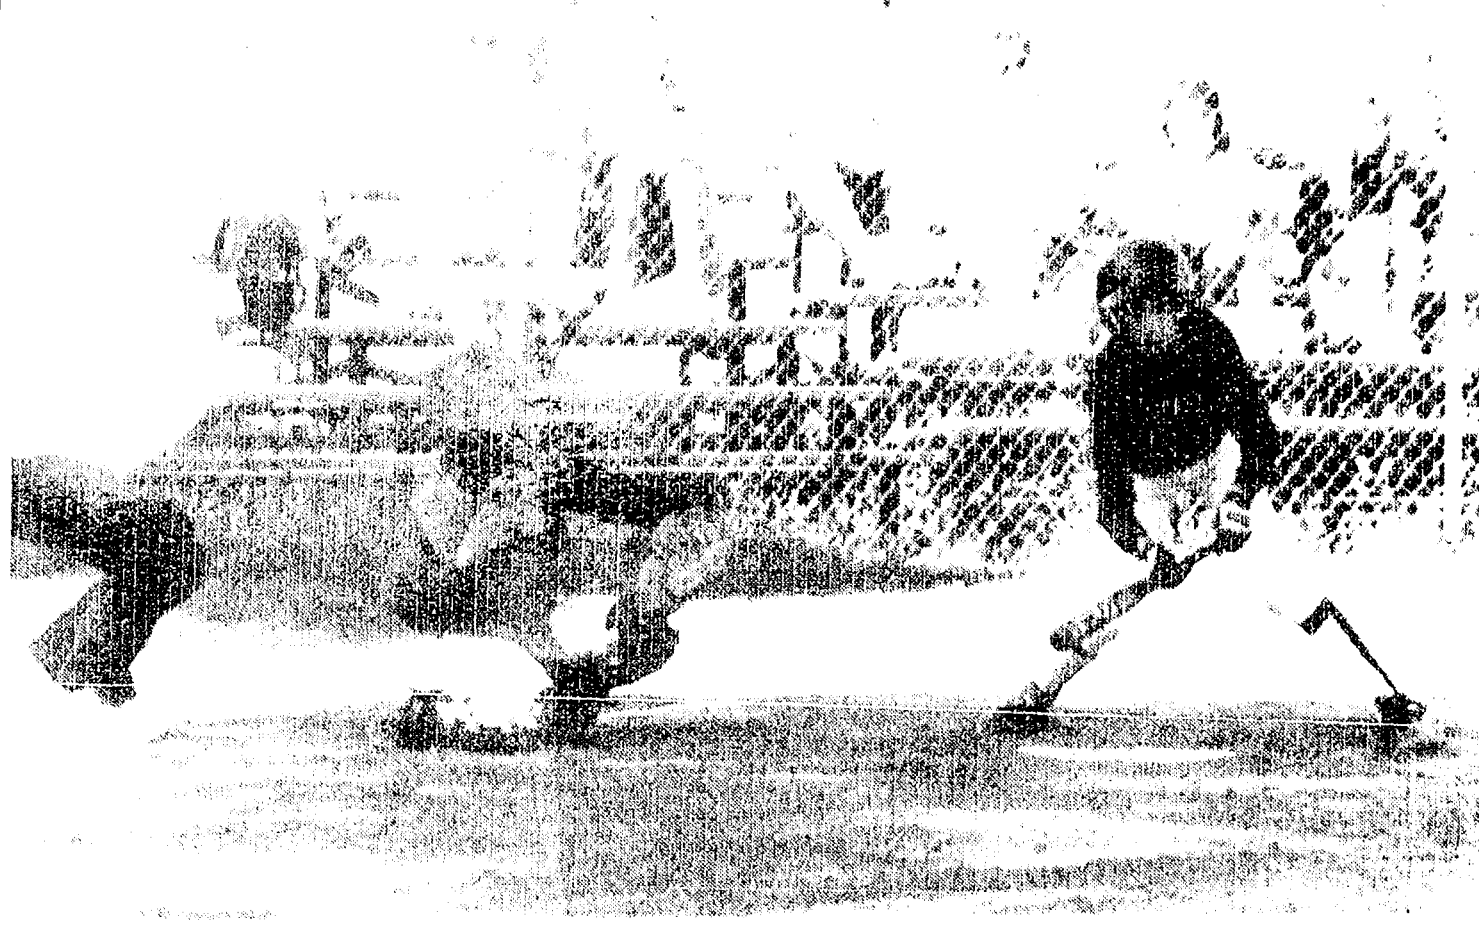

During the cycle, recruits are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 occupational fields.

Studies include seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid.

Although the Navy is getting smaller, the state-of-the-art ships, aircraft and high tech systems in today's fleet require bright, talented young men and women to operate them. The Navy has over 55,000 job openings this year, most of which include guaranteed training.

He is a 1991 graduate of Grayling High School.

"Please help me help our children" Vote for Irene Pettyjohn For the Crawford AuSable School District Board of Education June 13, 1994

Qualifications:

- I have had children in the Crawford AuSable schools for over 20 years.
- I was employed by Crawford AuSable schools for six years as Title I secretary/bookkeeper. I also covered school issues for three years as the reporter for the Crawford County Avalanche.
- I have served on several millage campaigns and infrastructure committees to ensure that the continuing educational needs of our children are met now and in the future. I am a member of the Youth Board at Mt. Hope Lutheran Church.
- I have demonstrated a measure of fiscal responsibility by operating my household budget in the black for 31 years.

As a member of the Crawford AuSable School District Board of Education my goals will be to:

- Promote greater emphasis on academic education. The 1993 Michigan Education Assessment Program (M.E.A.P.) scores clearly prove that our district needs to rededicate its effort to improve our school's academic curriculum. Academics must come first!
- Adopt school budgets that stay within Proposal A funding constraints while focusing always on a commitment to academic excellence.
- Improve our district's "user friendliness" to both students and parents. Parents should be able to approach teachers, administrators, and school board members with their concerns and walk away satisfied that their input was respected and valued. I believe parents know what is best for their children and that parents and teachers and administrators must become partners in the education process...not adversaries. All school board meetings should be held when the public, especially parents and teachers and administrators can attend, in a location large enough to allow adequate seating for everyone attending.

Children participate in bicycle safety program

Children from Grayling Elementary second grade and the Modern Woodmen Junior Club recently completed a bicycle safety course. The second grade teachers and Junior Club director Patty Salyers, instructed the youngsters in proper care of a bicycle, rules of the road and safety tips. Children answered 20 questions on the written quiz for traffic safety knowledge.

The bicycle safety program has been endorsed by law enforcement officers. "Bicycles present a challenge to every community," Salyers said. "Each year, thousands of children and adults are injured in accidents that could have been avoided if they would have kept their bikes in good running order, obeyed traffic laws, and handled their bikes successfully." All participants received a reflective decal and a bicycle safety booklet.

This educational program is one of six sponsored by the Modern Woodmen of America, a fraternal life insurance society with the home office in Rock Island, IL.

The bicycle safety program was donated by Salyers, Junior Club director, a local area representative of Modern Woodmen of America.

Many Hearing Problems Can Be Helped.

Chicago, Ill.-- A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest hearing aid Beltone has ever developed will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than an eighth of an ounce, and it fits completely into the ear canal.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Although a hearing aid may not help everyone, more and more people with hearing losses are being helped. For your free sample send your name, address, and phone number today to: Department 039, Beltone Electronics Corporation, 4201 West Victoria Street, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

Curtain up for Grayling 'Follies' this weekend

On Friday evening, June 10, at the Grayling High School Auditorium, a group of Crawford County senior citizens will open the doors for their first performance of the second annual Grayling Milltown Follies.

Doors open at 7:15 p.m. and the curtain goes up at 8 p.m. A second performance has been scheduled for Saturday, June 11.

The Grayling Milltown Follies is a full evening of light entertainment. Good music, funny skits and a high stepping chorus line are the prime ingredients of the show. The entire two hour production is staged by area citizens who are at least 50 years of age, with many of the performers in their 80s.

Tickets for both performances are presently on sale at Mac's Drug Store, Grayling State Bank and Northland Area Federal Credit Union, all in Grayling.

Tickets can also be ordered by phone by calling 1-800-624-0221. Price of admission is $6 per person.

Any tickets not sold in advance will be available at the box office before each performance.

Senate passes gun-free school legislation to curb school violence

In one of the nation's most sweeping legislative efforts to combat school violence, the Michigan Senate passed legislation requiring students found in possession of a gun or any other dangerous weapon on school property be expelled from school.

"Too many children attend school today in constant fear of being attacked, robbed or worse," said Senator Joel Gougeon (R-Bay City). "Guns have become commonplace and kids committing these violent crimes are getting younger and younger."

"This legislation will turn back the clock on crime, where schools once again become a repository of learning, not a depository for guns," Gougeon said. "It will also ensure that a few bad actors no longer have the ability to spoil or threaten a child's education or their future."

Senate Bill 966, requires a 90-day expulsion for students in the fifth grade or lower in illegal possession of a gun or dangerous weapon. The parent or legal guardian will be allowed to petition the board after 60 days to reinstate the student at the completion of the mandatory expulsion period.

The bill requires a 180-day expulsion for students in the sixth grade or higher found in illegal possession of a gun or dangerous weapon. The parent or legal guardian would be allowed to petition the school board after 150 expulsion days to reinstate the student at the completion of the mandatory expulsion period.

Under the bill, an expelled student could not be enrolled in other Michigan school districts until the student's expulsion period has been exhausted. Under the bill, the expulsion procedure would work as follows:

Within 10 days of receiving a petition for reinstatement, the school board would establish a committee to review the reinstatement petition. The committee would be comprised of two school board members, a school administrator, teacher and the parent of a pupil in the school district. The committee would review the petition and supporting information and make a recommendation to the school board.

Recommendations would be based on: risk of harm to pupils or school personnel; risk of school district or personal liability; the age and maturity of the child; the child's record before the expulsion incident; the child's attitude concerning the expulsion incident; the child's behavior since expulsion and remediation prospects; and, the degree of cooperation and support by the parent or legal guardian.

Upon review, the committee would recommend to the school board either an unconditional reinstatement, a conditional reinstatement or could decide against reinstatement. If the school board does not grant the petition for reinstatement, the parent or legal guardian of the expelled student may petition another school district.

Current law does not require a student found in possession of an illegal weapon be expelled from school. In addition, if a youth is expelled, current law allows the youth to enroll and attend a public school in another district.

Other legislation passed by the Senate today would ensure expelled youths are placed in an alternative education program to be determined by the appropriate county probate court.

Hunting & Fishing Weekly Update

NOW IS TIME FOR U.P. BROOK TROUT

By the time you read this, I will be in the Upper Peninsula fishing brook trout. I always try to reserve three days in early June for this. There are many streams up there that are great fishing for a short time in June; the Indian, Fox and East Branch of the Fox, and the Two Hearted rivers, just to name a few. Usually you have to walk in or canoe down into areas that are not fished too heavily. Sometimes we really do well.

Closer to home, the blue gills are starting to bed around the area, so blue gill fishing will be very good for the next three weeks or so.
